DELVING IN

terminology:

analogue art: art that is created or manipulated by hand. In contrast to digital art which is created using technology, analogue art is tactile and unique.

assemblage: an artform that utilizes a collection of two and three-dimensional object.

autodidact: a self-taught person collage: a piece of art made by layering and adhering a collection of 2-D materials such as photographs and paper or fabric to a 2-D substrate.

Dada: an artistic movement based on irrationality, a rejection of traditional artistic values. Often characterized as satirical or nonsensical Sgraffito: an Italian term for "scratched". An artistic practice of scratching into paint or clay to reveal the layers beneath.

Surrealism was a cultural movement borne out of WWI Europe where artists portrayed images that were illogical or unnerving. Artists practiced automatism, a method of suppressing conscious control over the creative process.

Surrealist: an artist or writer who works in the spirit of surrealism and practices automatism.
